The Bridges are wholly Wrought Iron except the floor, which is wood, like the floors of ordinary Bridges. We are prepared to make these structures in any quantities, at prices about as follows:

Railroad Bridges, 50 feet span, 8,000 lbs, 817 50 per foot lineal. oot lineal.

Common Road or Tarupike, 50 feet span, 2500 fbs. $5.75 per foot lineal.

Increase of spau of bridges or width of buildings makes an increase of price, but the lacrease la price is an omore than the increase of woodes structures.

We can furnish iron of every size to work into Bridges and Roofs, and Railroads or other companies buying the right to use them and the iron of us, can make their own structures one third less than the above prices. Our structures weigh only trom 14 to 1-10 that of wood; difference in freight in a long distance buys our work. In a few days we will have at our Factory, 497 West Third street, in this city, four different specimens of our Roof, where the public can inspect them to their satisfaction. We beg them to give us a call, as all our work is warranted, and we ask no pay on ordinary jobs until the work is done and approved, payments being secured on contracting. From the many recommendations of this Work we have only room for the following: From Rev. Dr. Teft, lato President of Gennesses Cat. GENTLEMEN:—Itaving made a particular examination of Goodrich's "History of All Nations," I am free to say, that I know of no work, greator small, that contains half the amount of useful and entertaining matter for family reading. It is written in Mr. Goodrich's best etyle. It is a library, a historical library of itself; and it is worth, according to the usual cost of good reading, two or three times the money you ask for It. It is no wooder that you have to keep.

two or three times the modey you ask for it. It is no wonder that you have to keep a power press running constantly to supply the orders for these volumes; for the public have only to know their value to make them a universal want with all classes.

1 think it eminently deserving of the public patronage. It is necessarily brief, but it brings under review, with its admirable illustrations, the principal subjects worthy of attention in all nations, and to the young especially, it is invaluable.

I have been familiar with Mr. Goodrich's writings for many years, and have the pleasure of a personal acquaintance with him; and think him admirably qualified for imparting instruction in a way that brings it within the reach of the common mind.

The Russian Minister had applied to the Mandarins to secure lodgings for the American and Russian Legations. The concourse of offi cers from Pekin just now being unusually great, all the public buildings were pre occupied, and the Mandarins accordingly placed their seal on the door of the establishment, bidding the owner remove the fainting inmates of his zenana and complain to the winds. Fortunately his buildings are so extensive that after accommodating both Legations he still has room to house his family, and the ladies probably suffer no other inconve-nience than the want of their accustomed walks among the birds and flowers.

The reception of our Minister took place or Monday. As Mr. Reed descended from his se-dan, be was conducted by the Chinese Ministers to a seat placed between their own at the prin clpal table. Of all the Chinese and Tartars present, they only were allowed to be seated.

After the usual compliments, Mr. Reed requested to see the Imperial edict by which they were commissioned to negotiate. It was produced by Kweiliang, who, raising it reverently above his head, slowly removed the yellow wrap-per and placed it in his bands, at the same time per and placed it in his bands, at the same time furnishing a copy for the archives of the Legation. Mr. Reed in turn exhibited his own credentials, and furnished a copy. This done, Mr. Reed banded to his interpreter, Mr. Martin, a paper reviewing his own course with reference to Chinese politics and defining his present position. This was read to the Commissioners in Chinese, and some points made the subject of further inquiry and explanation. It was agreed to refer the consideration of the amendments proposed in the treaty to deputies, and that the Ministers should only meet to sign and seal the documents when only meet to sign and seal the documents when it should be completed.

Expecting that the deputies, each acting under the Instructions of his superior, would in the meantime agree on the matter of the new treaty, Mr. Reed proposed to meet the Imperial Com-missioners for the purpose of affixing their signatures on Thursday. All the apartments are faced to rards the garden with trellis work, lined with transpar

These are lanterns, and when lit with crimson tapers of vegetable tallow, the coup d'æ'l is one of peculiar brilliancy.

Our Minister pays for these lodgings a bundred and fifty dollars per montb—a round sum, you will say, which proves that John Chinaman in the exercise of hospitality is not forgetful of self. But in trnth our comfortable quarters were obtained by neither love nor money. The lord of the corridors are the control of the corridors are going to receive the letter on your knees!" "No," said Mr. Reed. "We kneel only to the Lord of Heaven." "But our great Emperor is equal to Heaven." "But our great it standing." "Then you must raise it above your head as a oken of repect." Mr. Reed cut short the discussion by declaring that he would receive it with no other forms than those with which Commissioner Yan bad received the letter of our President.

Ou the next day (the 11th) at 12 o'clock, Mr. Reed proceeded with bis suit and escortto Haik-wangsze to meet the Imperial Commissioners. As we approached, the aspect of the place appeared very different from what we bad seen it before. There were the same dingy walls, but they were transferred by some magic power to the margin of a silverylake, whose waters flashed in the beams of the noon day sun and whose bosom was dotted with the islets of emerald green.
The shadows of the trees were distinctly visible, and nothing but the memory of the dusty plain we bad previously seen in that direction appeared to remind us that the heautiful scene was not a

On decending from his sedan, Mr. Reed was conducted by Kweiliang to a table curtained with yellow satin, and on which, sustained by an elevated frame, lay a bamboo tube of the same imperial color. That was the long expected letter. The Mandarins eyed it with awful reverence, and spoke of it with suppressed voices. Mr. Reed thought they were going to ask him to kneel, and again proposed the form which the they assented, and Kweiliang raising it in both hands placed it in those of Mr. Reed, who, resigns. Gov. Denver, writing to the Secretary of the Interior, says that the late news from Pike's Peak leaves no room to doubt the correctness of the reported discoveries of gold in that vicinity. The explorers in that vicinity have found gold on the Arkansas, at the heads of the Kansas, and on the South fork of the Platte rivers, embracing an extent of country of more than 300 miles. The richest mines yet found are on Cherry creek, tributary of South Platte, directly South of

In view of the present condition of affairs in that region, and to prevent future difficulty, the Governor advises that the lauds there be withdrawn from pre-emption, if they are open for set-tlement, leaving them, as in the mining districts scaffold or in banishment. His crime is not of California, free for all who may see fit to eu gage in working the mines. The country, he believed, is claimed or has been claimed by the Utahs, the Cheyennes, the Kiowas, and the Arrapahoes, and he does not know that their title to it has ever been extinguished. If it has not, there will be no trouble in withdrawing these mining lands from the operation of the preemption laws; but, if it has, then they ought to be withdrawn any hour, and the facts and rea-sons reported to Congress next winter. It would, he adds, also be advisable to send out some competent persons to examine the mines and report the facts in connection with them.

The acting commissioner of the General Laud Office to day submitted to the President 11 patents of lands enuring under the grants of September, 1830. One in Milan district, Missouri, six in Helena district, Ark., and four in Florada, containing, in the aggregate 3,192,574 acres of swamp lands in those States.

HEROIC .- On Monday night, while most of the family of Mr. P. E. Yeiser, of this city, were in attendance at the opera, a lady who is boarding at his house, had occasion to go lnto the diningroom, in the basement. On cntering the room she discovered one of the windows hoisted, and proceeded to close it. The door at which she had entered being open the thought of the window sash being up, induced her to suspect something wrong, and she looked behind the door. There stood, bolt upright, a strange, stout negro man. She immediately laid hold of him with one hand, and shouted for assistance. Finding ber hold giving way with one hand she dropped the candle she held in the other, and seized him with both, bolding on until assistance came, when the bur-glar was secured and lodged in the lockup. A more heroic feat is not often performed by those of the sterner sex .- I.ex. Obs. & Rep.

WEDNESDAY,SEPTEMBER 29, 1858.

I From the manner in which a number of Democratic organs denounce the doctrine proclaimed by Senator Douglas in his speeches in Illinois,-that the people of the Territories, through their Territorial Legislatures, may lawfully admit or exclude slavery, as they please, -one would suppose that it is a new interpretation of the Kansas act; but such is far from being the case. Not only is the doctrine far from being new, but it has been frequently stated in Congress by distinguished Democrats, and it was the interpretation under which that act was defended in every Northern State, and by which alone any considerable portion of the Democrats of the free States every became reconciled to it, or to the repeal of the Missouri Compromise. And, strange to say, notwithstanding that it was everywhere boldly aunounced by Northern Democrats, by Douglas, Cass, Richardson, Bigler, and others, before and during the eanvass of 1856, the same Southern Democratic papers which now declare it to be odious, until recently lauded its Northern adherents as eminently conservative on the question of slavery in the Territories, and as the American slaveholders were. Nor ean the organs which formerly were filled with fulsome adulation of Senator Douglas, but which now, uniting in the unrelenting war which is being waged against him by Mr. Buehanan, their master, so bitterly denounce him and his views as opposed to Southern rights, plead ignorance as to the opinions he has held for years, and which, in his own language, he proclaimed from every stump in Illinois in 1856; for the American speakers and papers of the South long ago substantiated the fact that the Northern Democracy held to this heresy, that Douglas and his followers were only enabled to maintain their popularity by advocating it, and held it and its advocates and their Southern allies up to the derision and scorn of every right thinking Southern man. They conclusively proved that the Democratic party by repealing the Missouri Compromise and substituting in its place a bill containing this abom inable principle, had done the South anything question which we cannot control. " else than a service, and had inaugurated a theo ry into our territorial policy which, in the language of Calhoun, "is more odious than Wilmot Provisoism." We say that the very Democratie editors in the South who now abuse Douglas for proelaiming this doetrine, formerly held him up to the South as par excellence a Northern man they knew all the time that he held to the idea which they now so utterly repudiate and condemn Then it was necessary to deceive the South as to the true position of their Northern allies, and when party necessity demanded the sacrifice of sineerity, few Democratic editors scrupled to-do all they could for their party. But now that they have succeeded by deceit and treachery in subject to the people of the territories themselves, tricking the South, in order once more to gain and allow them to introduce or abolish slavery, as dominion over her outraged people, they are obliged to abandon the very principles upon which they succeeded less than two years ago.

Senator Douglas by Southern Democrats-for reply to a question propounded to him by Mr. Lineoln, he said, that, under the Kansas Nebras sion into the Union as a State.

Now, however hateful this doetrine may be to follows: Southern men, it is nevertheless substantially nati, and, moreover, is identical with that enun ciated by President Buchauan in his letter of acstated by Douglas, then there are a great many exist within their limits." hereties in the Democratic party-so many in fact, that without their aid the Democracy would not be able to earry a single Northern State. The Kansas Nebraska bill contains this distinct declaration: "It being the true inteut and meaning of this act, not to legislate slavery into any State or Territory, nor to exclude it therefrom, but to leave the people thereof perfectly free to form and regulate their domestic institutions in their own way, subject only to the Constitution of the United States.'

No one ever claimed that, under the Constitu tion. Congress had the power to legislate slavery into any State or exclude it therefrom. The legislation was upon the Territory of Kansas, and the act declared that it was meant and intended to leave the people of the Territory-NOT THE STATE -- of Kansas perfectly free to form and reg. ulate their domestic institutions (SLAVERY among others) in their own way. Now, in the name of seuse, what did all this mean, unless it meant that by the Kansas bill Congress delegated to the peo ple of Kansas, acting through their Territorial government, the power to admit or exclude slavery? But let the author of the bill, Mr. Douglas, state it, meaning in his own way. In the debate upon the Kansas bill, in reply to the demand of Senator Stuart, of Michigan, that there might be di rectness upon the proposition to give the people of the Territory the power to admit or exclude sl svery, Mr. Douglas, said: "In the fourteenth sec tion, as it now stands, we declare the object nor o at of the Territories, but 'to leave the people perfectly free to form and regulate their only to the Constitution of the United States.' not." Is there an Ything equivocal there? The Schator wants to kn. w why, instead of saying you leave made his speech in Congress, endeavoring to them free to form 'their domestic institutions,' draw out the Democracy upon this subject, he them free to form their domestic institutions, draw out the Democracy upon this subject, he amount appropriated at the last session was $18, you do not say that you leave them free to regulate annount expended $16, late 'that quest ion'' Would that change it? Is afterwards assailed by the envenomed abuse of it not hypercritic at? Is there a man in America the Democratic party of the country; so chatter the Democratic party of the country is chatte the not hypercritic will, nevertheless, be a denciency, arising out of the fact that the arrears of the two past seasons free to regulate their domestic institutions in their principle among the harmonious should have are for the most part outstanding. own way includes the Question of slavery? been exposed. Their limits,-whose limits? Why from the limits of the Territory, while it is a Territory, and not from the limits of the State to be formed out of it. And vet the Southern Democrats who now denounce Mr. Douglas, supported Buchan an upon this principle, abominable as they now esteem it.

But this Democratic theory had an origin ear lier than the passage of the Kansas blll contain ing it. In 1848 Mr. Nicholson propounded cerain interrogatories to Gen. Cass, then the Demoeratic candidate for the Presidency, as regards his views upon the subject of slavery in the Territories. The result was the notorious Nichol son letter which so disgusted Mr. Yancev of Alabama, and from which we quote the following

"The principle the Wilmot Proviso involves should be kept out of the national legislature. being truer friends to Southern interests than Local institutions, whether they have reference to slavery, or to any other relations, domestic or public, are left to local authority, either originai or derivative. * Leave the people of the territories to regulate their internal concerns in their own way. * * Leave the people who will be effected by this slavery question, to adjust it upon their own responsibility, and in their own man-

> Yet the Southern Democracy voted for Gen Cass notwithstanding his open avowal of this dogma of squatter-sovereignty, and although he has never retracted it in any shape or form he street, which resulted in the death of D. L. Ward is the Secretary of State and is honored with the at the hands of R. R. Lindsay. confidence of the Democratic President. As late as 1856 Gen. Cass repeated his views upon this subject as follows:

"I never contended that the people of a territory had the right to legislate on the subject of slavery, before they had a recognized government. You organize a legislature in the territory; that legislature, then, has power of legisla Upon what subjects they shall exercise their owers of legislation, after they have organized, is a question which we cannot control. The ter-ritorial legislature has the power to legislate on this as on any other subject."

Senator Douglas as early as the summer of 1850, seemed inclined to coincide with Gen. Cass, although the former contended that the Congress and the latter denied it; still Douglas with Southern principles, notwithstanding that was in favor of delegating to the people of the Territorics all the power which Congress possessed over slavery, which he believed to be full full und ample. He said:

> "I am not prepared to say that, under the Coustitution, we have not the power to pass laws for excluding negro slaves from the territories; * but I do say that, if left to myself, to carry out my own opinion, I would leave the whole they may prefer.

Subsequently Mr. Douglas engrafted the principle thus announced on the Territorial policy The political heresy which is charged against of the nation in 1854, by aiding and procuring, as ehalrman of the Committee on Territories, merly his admirers but now his foes-is, that in the bill for the organization of Kansas and Nebraska. This bill, it is useless to remind our readers, was taken up and adopted as a test ka bill, the people of a Territory can, by lawful measure by the Southern Democracy. Again, means, exclude slavery before they apply for admis in November 1854, in Chicago, Mr. Douglas

"Allow the people of the territories, in matthe same as that incorporated into the Kansas. Nebraska bill and into the platform adopted by the National Democratic Convention at Cincinters concerning their local and domestic policy, to make their own laws. Let them establish their own local legislatures. Leave the people of the slave trade, still the News is assured that the each territory, as of each State, free to decide the mass of the people of Charleston are content. slavery question, well as other questions, for themselves. The Nebraska act declares that the people of a Territory, like those of a State, shall de ceptanee; and if it is so great a heresy when cide for themselves whether slavery shall or shall not

But these are only instances among numberless others in which the Little Giaut has set forth the "great principle" embodied in the Kansas bill, that the people of the Territories, through their Territorial Legislatures, shall settle the slavery question to suit themselves. But this was before the Administration had declared war against him, and the Democratic papers of the South either endorsed him and his doctrines as true to the South, or else avoided saying anything about it one way or the other. But now at the signal from the man at Washington, the entire pack have joined in the barking against

But Douglas is not the only Northern man who holds to this theory. Senator Bigler of Pennsylvania, the mouth-piece of President Buchanan, has often advocated it, as, for instance, in July 1856, he said:

"I have no views to conceal; I agree with the venerable Senator from Michigan. It seems to U. S. Grand Lodge of the Independent Order of me, that when Congress has conferred upon the Odd Fellows assembled in the morning at the people all the power it possessed, as in the case of Kunsas, the people, through their Territorial Legislatures, have an ample law making power, equal to the control of slavery, or any other question."

Senator Mason also endorsed it, although the Cougressmen from Virginia refused to go with hearts is to render homage to the Supreme Grand him in his opinions. On the 4th of December 1856, he said:

"The Territorial government of Kansas, un der the Kansas law, was so organized as to ad mit citizens of all the States, whether free or to be not to legislate slavery into the Territories, slave, to take their property into the Territories; then to determine for themselves whether this in domestic 'institutions in their own way, subject stitution should exist or prevail among them or

We regret to find in the Louisville Courier an account of a fatal affray in that city in which one who was slightly known to us was one of winter food. I think more eows will die for the the parties. On Saturday afternoon an affray occurred in Liudsay was passing down Third street, and when opposite the doorway leading up to the old Masonie Hall was accosted by Ward. A few Mr. B. said: "I'll B. said: "I'll be said." words passed, Ward using very abusive epithets towards Lindsay, ealling him a "d-d rat," and finally striking him in the face. Lindsay immediately drew a pistol and fired, the ball on tering the left breast. Ward walked a lew steps, eutered the Democrat office and died in less than a half hour. Dr. Colescot was ealled and reu dered whatever surgical assistance was possible. Lindsay gave himself up, and with Mr. Collins and R. M. Moore, went to jail. A preliminary investigation of his case will come off at the po court this morning.

The deceased had repeatedly, within a lew days past, threatened to cowhide Lindsay, and had informed several persons that he was watch ing for him. It was evident that he was, when power to legislate over the Territories existed in the difficulty occurred, on the lookout for Lind say, having been but a few moments before in quiring for him, threatening him in the presence o several witnesses-remarking that he could whip him, or, to use his own words, could "crush him

From the Charleston Mercury. Does Chinese Sugar Cane Kill Cattle!

MR. EDITOR: I have fed this plant to all kinds of stock for the four past seasons, in every stage of its growth—green, ripe, and cured as fodder. I have found it the best soiling plant I ever rais ed-horses, mules, sheep, swine, goats, and eattle rapidly fattening when fed on it. I fed two hun dred and fifty bushels of the seed during the pas winter to sheep, goats, and poultry, and I attach the relative value of oats to it as winter food for these animals. In April last I sowed twenty pasture for ealves and milch cows. On the first of July I turned the milch cows, sheep, goats, calves, swiue, and geese upon it, and have not lost a single animal. They have all improved rapidly; and, although I have large numbers on take my animals from good pastures, and feeding them well before turning them in, allowing them a plenty of salt. If a half starved cow is turned on wheat, peas, or Indian corn, she is just as likely to die from over eating these crops as sh is from Chinese sugar cane. The disease which kills cattle when over fed on green food in a hungry state is termed hoore, the best cure for which is a drench of a piut of salt dissolved iu a gallon of water. This will relieve an animal sometimes in a minute. Peas, of all green food, is the most dangerous, from the flatulent nature of the plant. I have frequently seen half a dozen cows die in a few hours after they were turned into a luxuriant pea field in the fall, and as frequently have seen others relieved by the ing the winter, and grazed upon the road sides and bushes, might be expected to die from joy after an over feed of sugar millet. I have sowed broadcast at the rate of one and a half bushels of sugar cane seed to the acre-a meadow I intended to convert into good nutritious hay for want of this food in our State than from being over fed on it. I do not think, with the prope preeautions, it is in any wise more dangerou than any other green food we are accustomed to feed, and would advise its extended use as a soil ing and hav crop in the Sonth.
